when they release the Saturn in 1995. It boasts some pretty powerful hardware specs like two Hitachi 32-Bit RISC processors for the main CPU. The powerful Saturn will attract the attention of gaming enthusiasts and Sega plans to release their arcade racing hit, Daytona, and the very popular fighting game, Virtua Fighter.

Until then, gamers have a number of quality Sega and third-party games to choose from across all of Sega's formats, including Mickey Mania by Sony Imagesoft for the Genesis and Sega CD. Plus, they have an impressive lineup of other titles to choose from this holiday season.

TO CD OR NOT TO CD...

Many avid gaming enthusiasts have already answered that question, and there's an incredible crop of games coming out for the Sega CD. The Sega CD has taken players to new heights, and the companies are showing no signs of slowing down production. The Lawnmower Man from Sales Curve features awesome 3-D graphics as you travel through the many weird levels. By wielding computerized graphics, this game makes you feel like you watching a

ACCESSORIES...

What would a game system be without loads of peripherals and accessories to go along with it? Well, fret not gamers. There are many companies ready to stand and deliver. Are you having trouble finding your favorite cartridges only to look around and see your dog chewing on them? The Video Jukebox from ASG Technologies solves this problem by linking six of your Genesis cartridges into one central unit!

On the peripheral scene, the TeeV Golf package from Sports Sciences is a great way to get into the game of golf. Using a pseudo club, you swing over a floor sensor, accurately playing many popular golf games without ever touching a controller.

This is just the tip of the iceberg. Sit back and enjoy the issue. We think you'll like what you'll see.

DOOM

You are a combat-trained Marine stationed on Phobos. There was an accident and a gateway to hell was formed. Some of the people stationed on Phobos went insane. The rest were slaughtered—all but you. Now it's just you, hundreds of insane humans, and a herd of hellish creatures. Sega is releasing Doom for its new 32X upgrade for the Genesis in November. This will be the first 32X game released with the rating M, which stands for Mature Gamers Ages 17 and Up. Doom is a great translation from the original PC format, plus it has some differences, such as a few of the maps have been changed, and you will be glad to know the game has not been "sanitized" at all. Look for it in November. It's the ultimate gamer's game!

The granddaddy weapon of them all, the BFG 9000, will destroy anything in its path.

When all else fails, you must rely on the handgun!

When in doubt, use your trusty bazooka!

plateau of playability. Very seldom seen in a home gaming system, the vivid colors and the capabilities of the 32X are used to the max. If you are into Star Wars and video gaming, this game is definitely for you!

32X

We're still working on the
"Golf Cart Joy Ride & Crash" feature.

Other than that, it's perfect.

LINKS

the challenge of golf

Links for Sega CD™ is the most near-perfect, outrageously realistic golf game available.

How perfect is Links? The course mimics Torrey Pines exactly —incredible, 35 mm photography places you behind every tee, fairway, water hazard and bunker, wherever the ball lands, and gives you an accurate view of your next shot. It's so life-like, you can almost smell the green (that's a good thing).

And as you'd expect from any decent golf game, Links features

- Tournament play
- Practice mode, Front 9, Back 9
- Instant Replays
- Save player info

But then, Links goes far beyond any other golf games to give you in-depth golf features like

- 1 to 6 players (sorry, other games can only handle up to 4)
- Full support of TeeV Golf Club™ for the most accurate, realistic and fun golfing experience available
- Aerial fly-overs of each hole so realistic you may get airsick
- Running stats on how many fish you tag when your ball lands in the water.

Okay, we're just kidding about the last feature.

But as you can see, Links for Sega CD is the closest thing to perfection when it comes to golf games. So you can bet that if any game comes out with a "Golf Car Donuts On The Fairway" feature in the future, it'll be Links.
