STREET FIGHTER II CHAMPION EDITION

Announced at a press release March 10, 1993, Capcom USA signed on with Sega of America as a third party licensee "Our alignment with Sega will enable Capcom to bring the sweeping enthusiasm of the Street Fighter entertainment phenomenon to millions of Genesis supporter worldwide," stated Capcom's senior vice president.

Introduced in April 1992, SF II CE in the arcades has become the most successful coin-operated arcade game of the past decade. The title was named "Arcade Game of the Year" in 1992 by the prestigious Amusement Machine Operator's Association (AMOA) and has continuously held a top spot on the arcade game rating charts, including Replay Magazine's popular "Players' Choice." Preceding SF II CE in the arcades was Street Fighter II, which also won AMOA's "Arcade Game of the Year" award in 1991.

A one- or two-player game, Capcom's SF II CE pits players against a collection of 12 different "street fighting" world warriors, each of whom has his or her own fighting style, character moves, strengths and weaknesses.

Capcom's SF II CE, including the soon-to-be-released Genesis cartridge, offers many distinct features not available in previous arcade and home-based Street Fighter II titles. Players who have nearly mastered the original Street Fighter II series will find themselves facing an entirely new set of challenges with the "Champion Edition." For instance, all characters in SF II CE are armed with new attributes and abilities. Several prime examples include Ken's enhanced "dragon punch," used to stun his opponents; and Chun Li's two additional flip kicks that better enable her to devastate the enemy.

Yo, Gamer's!

Hey thanks for asking about our stuff. This newsletter includes the most current release date information available. Since you've asked us about our games we've sent you this information to let you know what we have planned for the coming months.

So here's the deal - If a game is not listed on this sheet than Sega has not announced the title for release during the time periods covered. NO OTHER NEW GAME TITLE INFORMATION IS AVAILABLE. (That means the game you're asking us about is not planned to come out as far as we know!)

Because we ship our products to the retailer's warehouse(s) or distributor(s) you may not see the most recently shipped titles in your local stores. Our release date information should be viewed as shipping times from the warehouse, it's not a promise of when games will arrive at you local retail store. That's why our games are announced by months only.

For more detailed information or descriptions on the new games you'll have to call the Consumer Service Line at (415) 591-PLAY between the hours of 9am and 6pm, PST. The Sega Counselors will give you information regarding game play type, skill level and game strategies. We also offer prerecorded "up to the minute" game release announcements on this line.

Sorry, but game release information and game play assistance is not available on the toll free 800 line - they really don't give out anything other than Warranty, Repair and Order information.

And, don't forget that Sega of America has a Mail Order Service. This service was set up to help you purchase Sega games from the convenience of your own home. We offer a line up of Genesis and Game Gear titles as well as peripherals and accessories for our game systems. You can place your Visa or Master Card order by calling 1-800-USA-SEGA during our daily business hours (9am - 6pm, PST). Credit card orders are accepted from Adults only.

Thank's for playing our games and for your support of our game systems!
