"THE COIN MACHINE MERRY-GO-ROUND"

BY BILL GERSH

ONE-BALLS

With this issue of The Cash Box we start listing One-Balls in The Confidential Price Lists. This is being done because of the tremendously increased demand from subscribers everywhere in the country for a listing of this type. The popularity of the One-Balls is unquestioned. In a great many territories they have gone back into action and are bringing in the bigger moolah. They have certainly once again made it a lot more profitable for a great many coinmen. One of the revamp manufacturers has done a truly commendable job on the old One-Balls and is today getting more business than he can even handle. There is something about the speed action, the intriguing suspense and the rattle of the cash payout or the flash of the free plays that clicks with all players. From New York to California the One-Balls are back in action.

TAX PROBLEM

A few issues back we brought forth the fact that Louisville coinmen are having a delicate tax problem on their hands. Their city fathers have recognized payoffs on the Free Plays as okay. Along comes the Internal Revenue Department and claim that such payoff requires a $100. license from U.S. for this puts the 5-Ball F.P. in the "gambling" machine category. If Louisville coinmen take out a $10. license and advise their locations not to payoff or to make payoffs to just those people they know that the play (and the take) will fall plenty. If they instead take out the $100. license as demanded by the I.R.B. and thereby admit that they have "gambling" equipment someone in Louisville's Police Department may suddenly develop an itch to do a little pinching. In short, Louisville coinmen are having their hands full trying to solve the problem. In Milwaukee another angle arises. This town has just been okayed once again on 5-Ball F.P. But, the city administration regards these machines as simple amusement devices and that no payoffs are being made. Well and good. Along come the I.R.D. men and ask the location owner whether he pays off. Naturally he says "NO". Then, they shoot right back at him with an affidavit and ask him to sign it. Knowing storekeepers like you do - they most certainly are not going to sign any Federal affidavit that they do NOT payoff. What a helluva problem this is for Milwaukee's coinmen. If they take out the $100. license then the city is going to bounce them out. If they take out the $10. license when the I.R.D. is going to follow up and demand affidavits and storekeepers don't like to lie to the U.S. because of a pin game. It looks like Milwaukeeans will have to take out two licenses - $110. worth. Keep the $10. one prominently displayed and the $100. one hidden in the rear somewhere, is the way one leading Milwaukee coinman told me about it. But, with the U.S. publishing names and addresses what the hell good will this be - for the cops will rapidly find the spots. The $10. license is the answer and the coinman that simply can't will have to depend on people playing for fun - or else.

PENNSYLVANIA HOPEFUL

Many weeks ago The Cash Box reported the Butler, Pa. decision which was favorable to Pennsylvania coinmen and which has now gone into the Superior Court where the trial has already been held and the decision of the judges is pending. The average Pennsylvania coinman believes that this decision which is completely hinged on Free Plays will prove favorable. The F.P. games are still running in the smaller towns in Pennsylvania such as Lebanon, etc. The big cities are down tight. Except for music and a few pieces of arcade equipment here and there - nothing goes - except on the sneak. If this decision is favorable there is bound to be one grand rush for F.P. games and this territory will prove among the best in the country as it has in the past.

GAL MECHANICS

Some issues back we told the story of how some of our noted coinmen were going out to test gal mechanics. Since then some of them have learned that the gal servicers are not as speedy as the men they still can make the grade and proved profitable. Gal mechanics were used for assembly of the most intricate parts in all coin factories for years. They are being used by some of the revampers right now. There is no earthly reason then why gal mechanics can't work out to good advantage for the coinmen. Take time to investigate this angle and while you have some good boys on hand have them teach these gals all the ins and outs of repairs. You'll find the gals right up to snuff when it comes to putting games back into working condition - what's more they are much more patient and a helluva lot less complaining.

DIGGING WITH SILVER

With the $100. tax in effect on diggers a lot of coinmen overlook the fact that these machines are among the greatest of all the moneymakers in this industry. Weeks ago we reported that certain digger men were going into a "silver run". That meant that the men were going to feature quarters, half-dollars and silver dollars in these machines standing them on edge in a deep pile of hard candy and even enclosing paper money. The public love to dig for these chunks of silver - much more so than they do for novelties. Therefore if you can - get these started in your territory - slowly and easily and take it from us you'll really cash in - even better than with a slot.

I.E.C.

Get acquainted with these three letters. They are not a new government agency. They stand for "Indoors Entertainment Conference". Each day in these offices we are receiving answers to that first ballot wherein we put the idea of the Indoors Entertainment Conference to a vote. We've pushed it into this new issue once again. If you have already signed the first ballot - get some prominent coinman who may not yet be a subscriber to sign this new one. If you did not sign the first ballot then certainly make it your business to vote now. Remember that the conventions are gone. This idea takes the place of the convention. It gets the coinmen together to discuss their hopes and their ideas and puts them in a position to become better acquainted with each other. The men who will be present at the Indoors Entertainment Conference are the men who are going to lead this industry when the war is over. They are the nucleus of this business. They are the firms upon whom the success of this entire business rests. Therefore, it's up to you as to whether you do or do not want such a meet - which will be quietly and efficiently handled without any fanfare or publicity and which will not even have the mention of "coin operated" in it to meet with your desires.

WE'RE INTERLINKED

In my travels about the country I've heard arcade operators tell me, "What the hell do I care about the slot men - I'm only interested in arcades." This is as untrue as any statement I've ever heard. Each and every division of this industry is interlinked. I don't care if you operated drink vendors, cigarette or peanut machines or slots, pins, consoles, arcades or whatever it is - even scales. You're still in the coin operated machines business whether you like it or not. You may as well get used to that fact right now. Your city, county, state and federal governments have also recognized this fact. Without exception they have taxed everything in sight. In short, the old slogan, "Anything that operates with a coin" - is what you'll have to adopt. You may as well know, too, that if one division of this industry is hurt - all divisions are hurt for the bounce-back in newspaper publicity affects us all. Let's play more fair. Let's be more sensible. Let's stick together. It's now or never.

PARTS

Salvage every piece of solder, wire or gadget that you can from old games. We've made this plea dozens of times in past weeks. Visiting one of the revamp factories we learned that the solder salvaged from the playing board of one pin game was enough for this firm to use for ten or twelve games. That's efficiency. That means that with metals and parts of all types rapidly disappearing that this industry, because of such ingenuity, will be able to continue and to survive profitably. If you have old parts on hand - list them. Others around the country need them. Use your free space in The Cash Box to full advantage and at the same time have the satisfied feeling of knowing that you are also helping a fellow coinman somewhere else in the country. Save those parts. Be careful how you bust up old games. Every little piece of wire is beginning to count.

GAS & TIRES

This two word headline is familiar to the readers of The Cash Box. It has appeared a great many times in the past. Each new development was instantly reported to other coinmen thruout the country. We, here in the east, have become accustomed to the gas and tire rationing situation. But, as we stated many issues ago, we realized that this would eventually affect the rest of the country and therefore we reported each development in the eastern states. The tests were made here. Operating is continuing. It is extremely profitable for much overhead has been cut down. The men now learn that they are making a lot of extra money because of the fact that they are not making as many service calls as they formerly did. No more rushing out at midnight to service Jake Jerk, the Unhappy Bartender with $1.00 worth of nickels. Jake Jerk knows that the serviceman calls once per week and that he had better load himself with nickels or anything else he may want - at that time.

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records. It emphasizes that without proper documentation, it is difficult to track progress and identify areas for improvement.

2. The second part of the document focuses on the role of communication in a team. It states that effective communication is essential for ensuring that all team members are on the same page and working towards the same goals.

3. The third part of the document addresses the challenges of time management. It suggests that by prioritizing tasks and using time efficiently, one can avoid procrastination and complete projects on time.

4. The fourth part of the document discusses the importance of flexibility. It notes that in a rapidly changing environment, the ability to adapt to new circumstances is a key skill for success.

5. The fifth part of the document concludes by highlighting the value of continuous learning. It encourages individuals to stay curious and open to new ideas, as this is the only way to remain relevant in a competitive market.

In conclusion, the document provides a comprehensive overview of the key factors that contribute to success in a professional setting. By following the principles outlined here, individuals can enhance their productivity, improve their communication skills, and achieve their goals more effectively.

It is important to remember that success is not an overnight achievement. It requires consistent effort, dedication, and a willingness to learn from both successes and failures.

Thank you for your attention. We hope these insights have been helpful and look forward to your feedback.

"INDOORS ENTERTAINMENT CONFERENCE"

Second Ballot Report

This past week found New York slowly creeping up on the big lead Chicago had gained in the first week's voting. Chicago still remains the favored place for the Conference with the 3rd week in January still preferred. (One leading New England coinman suggested Miami for the 1st week in February on the theory a large number would like to spend a week or so after the Conference.)

If you haven't voted—do so NOW! If you have voted—turn this ballot over to someone in your territory who, even tho' he may not yet be a subscriber to The Cash Box, should know about this meet. Also, please send us suggestions regarding speakers you would like to hear, manufacturers you want to see present, subjects you would like to have discussed, etc., etc.
