There'll be a hot time in the town of Berlin

INSURANCE AGAINST "BARE CUPBOARDS" FOR COIN MACHINE MANUFACTURERS AND DISTRIBUTORS

WHEN Mother Hubbard went to the cupboard she got a rude jolt. There was nothing there. The place was bare. Let it be a lesson to you! Manufacturers, who finance customer paper, tie up capital on a low income job when it can work in the upper brackets. Developing products! Promoting them! Cementing their position in the postwar era. Why freeze your funds in this manner? Why run a chance that when you need dollars for important work, the cupboard may be bare? Let CMAC Financing do the shirt-sleeve work of carrying installment paper.

And so with Distributors. CMAC Financing helps them take cash discounts. It increases their prestige with operators by being able to offer this nationally known reliable financing service.

Peace may be nearer than you estimate. That means the postwar scramble for business isn't away. Are you set? Get set with the help of CMAC Financing. Write us for details—today!

In addition to financing manufacturer's and distributor's sales CMAC also provides distributor financing for the purchase of warehouse stocks of new equipment—financing through manufacturers or distributors of a substantial amount of the cost required for purchase and sale of routes.

THE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES

The history of the United States is a story of growth and change. It begins with the first settlers who came to the shores of North America in search of a new life. These early pioneers faced many hardships, but they persevered and built a new society. Over time, the United States grew from a small colony to a powerful nation. The American Revolution was a turning point in the country's history, as the colonies declared their independence from Great Britain. This led to the formation of the United States of America, a nation based on the principles of liberty and justice for all.

THE EARLY YEARS OF THE UNITED STATES

The early years of the United States were a time of exploration and discovery. The first European settlers came to the Americas in the late 15th and early 16th centuries. They were followed by a wave of immigrants from Europe, who brought with them the culture and traditions of their homelands. The United States was a melting pot of different peoples and languages. The early years were also a time of conflict, as the colonies fought for their independence from Great Britain. The American Revolution was a defining moment in the country's history, as the colonies declared their independence from Great Britain in 1776.

THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION AND THE FOUNDING OF THE NATION

The American Revolution was a war for independence that lasted from 1775 to 1783. It was fought between the thirteen original colonies and Great Britain. The colonies were fighting for the right to self-governance and to be treated as equal to the other nations of the world. The revolution was a success, and the United States was born. The new nation was founded on the principles of liberty and justice for all. The Constitution of the United States was written in 1787, and it is the foundation of the country's government. The Constitution established a system of checks and balances, and it guaranteed the rights of all citizens.

THE WESTERN EXPANSION AND THE GROWTH OF THE NATION

The western expansion of the United States was a process that began in the late 18th century and continued through the mid-19th century. It was a time of great discovery and exploration. The Lewis and Clark expedition was one of the most famous of these expeditions. It was led by Meriwether Lewis and William Clark, and it explored the western part of the United States. The expedition discovered many new plants and animals, and it helped to establish trade routes between the east and west. The western expansion was also a time of conflict, as the United States fought the Mexican-American War (1846-1848) and the Civil War (1861-1865). The Civil War was a defining moment in the country's history, as it ended slavery and established the United States as a nation of free people.

THE CIVIL WAR AND THE RECONSTRUCTION ERA

The Civil War was a war between the northern states and the southern states. It was fought from 1861 to 1865. The southern states were fighting for the right to secede from the United States and to keep slavery. The northern states were fighting for the preservation of the Union and the abolition of slavery. The Civil War was a success for the Union, and it ended slavery. The Reconstruction Era was a time of rebuilding and reform. It lasted from 1865 to 1877. The Reconstruction Era was a time of great change and progress. The United States was rebuilding itself after the devastation of the Civil War. The Reconstruction Era was also a time of conflict, as the United States fought the Reconstruction Era. The Reconstruction Era was a time of great change and progress. The United States was rebuilding itself after the devastation of the Civil War.

THE GROWTH OF THE NATION AND THE WESTERN FRONTIER

The growth of the United States was a process that continued through the late 19th century. The United States was a nation of frontiers, and the western frontier was the last of these frontiers. The western frontier was a time of great discovery and exploration. The Lewis and Clark expedition was one of the most famous of these expeditions. It was led by Meriwether Lewis and William Clark, and it explored the western part of the United States. The expedition discovered many new plants and animals, and it helped to establish trade routes between the east and west. THE AMERICAN WEST AND THE FRONTIER

The American West was a time of great discovery and exploration. The Lewis and Clark expedition was one of the most famous of these expeditions. It was led by Meriwether Lewis and William Clark, and it explored the western part of the United States. The expedition discovered many new plants and animals, and it helped to establish trade routes between the east and west. THE COIN OPERATED MACHINES INDUSTRY CONTAINS A SLEEPING INDUSTRIAL GIANT

This Business Can Open A Vast, New, Important Market To Help Assure The Future Of American Industry

By merchandising its operating, every jobber, distributor and manufacturer can be instrumental in opening an important market to all American industry. This trade controls a tremendous merchandising force to aid in its own as well as America's future business growth.

FOR a great many years the coin operated machines industry has rolled along under the force of its own power of acquaintance with many, many thousands of locations thruout this nation. It has continued its machines business without much regard for the fact that by this acquaintanceship it has within its control the largest possible potential for its own future growth, as well as for the future growth of much other American industry.

It is a well known fact in this industry, and accepted without much question, that the average operator is extremely well acquainted with all the profitable retail businesses in his territory. This has become so much a part of his job that neither he, nor anyone else in the industry, has thought too much about it.

This is one of the greatest powers this industry controls. As everyone engaged in this business knows, without a location a machine is worthless, regardless of the fact that the machine itself may be the finest ever yet produced by this industry. Therefore, being thoroly and intimately acquainted with the locations in his territory, is a necessity for even the smallest operator.

It is also an accepted fact that those locations which prove to be the most profitable to the operator are usually the locations which have the greatest amount of traffic, whether transient or local, in the area. In all cases, regarding locations of every type in any territory, there is no doubt that operators in that territory have already many times tested them and know their value to the machines of this industry, as well as their general financial status and their comparative importance to all other businesses in the section.

To build a sound and successful business it is necessary for the operator to intimately know all the locations in his territory. He must, and usually does, test each and everyone, and thereby becomes more closely acquainted with them. Because of this there now exists in this business nationally the most outstanding, intimate knowledge of the varied retail trades locations in this nation known to any single industry source.

Coinmen are not lookers-on when a new business arises in their territory. They go right in and get acquainted with the owners. And in a very short period of time come to know the general value of the business. Because of this they have an exceptionally fine understanding of the varied retail businesses of the nation. The trades covering and selling only certain classes of retailers do not have such insight into fields other than their own.

For example, it is a well known fact that a drug salesman entering the average town may have some idea of the extent and importance of the drug stores located in that community. But, he will intimately know little else concerning other retail businesses in that same town. Yet this salesman knows that by speaking with the operators in that same town he can, within a few minutes, ascertain whether it pays him to try to do business with even his own line of drug stores located in that town.

"The Coin Machines Merry-Go-Round"

The reason is simply that the average good operator has tested these spots. He is probably in there with one type of machine or another. He knows just what these places are doing from a general business standpoint. His figures may not be accurate to a minute degree, but from the general standpoint can be accepted, for they have proved to be extremely accurate in the majority of cases.

What is the trade doing with this marvelous knowledge of the retail locations in the country? These hundreds of thousands of retail locations that are an integral part of this business? These locations are being efficiently covered by the operators on an average of once a week and in some cases are being visited even more frequently. These retail locations range from the most prominent businesses in the large, metropolitan centers of the nation, to the lonely country cross-roads general store where electricity hasn't as yet been installed.

Here, then, lies a sleeping giant. A great force for the future good and welfare of this business, and perhaps for all American industry. Here is something which is of great moment to all engaged in this trade. Here is an important factor for tomorrow. This is a great power which this industry should try, with all might and main, to get into action as rapidly as possible. It can become the moving force to bring to this trade the leadership it has so long sought. This can become a great and respected industry because of this close acquaintanceship, this understanding, this constant contact with so many of the retail trades of this nation.

Just as all good advertisers merchandise their advertising, so should this trade now merchandise its operating business. There is needed some product, which can be given or sold or consigned to the operator by the jobber and distributor, and manufactured for him by the manufacturers of this industry, which will be acceptable to every type of location the operator controls, regardless whether the location is a gas station, drug store, tavern, general store, beauty shop, health club, or whatever it is.

Here is a possibility that overshadows all others for the future of this industry. Whatever that product is, or will be, is as yet unknown. It must be something that will meet with the approval of every location.

It may be an advertising display which the operator can give or consign to the location and service at each collection, and for which servicing he receives a certain sum each week. He can share this income with the location owner. Here is an extra profit for him and for his location. Here is something, should his territory close down, which will remain as income insurance to him and will, at the same time, allow him to continue contact with his locations. Of course this product may be something else besides an advertising display.

What is most important is the fact that here is an industry with intimate entry to many hundreds of thousands of retail locations, with personal and close acquaintanceship with those locations. This can, in one sudden sweep, popularize some product and maintain close, constant contact for that product. (The closest to any product yet conceived for this gigantic market has been the Salesboard.)

The years of contact and friendship which the operators have built with the nation's locations should be taken advantage of by the better minds in this industry to help benefit the trade. At the same time it opens a vast and potential industry within an industry. Perhaps many coinmen have been too close to the forest to see this one tree.

In former years many feeble stabs were made at this powerful, potential merchandising market by various promoters. One promoter brought forth the unique plan of giving outstanding hit records away free to phonograph operators who would be contracted to place these in their machines. At the end of each record's music was a short advertising talk of twenty words or so for some product or other, as for example any of the popular brand cigarettes. This plan, tho somewhat logical in its construction, failed of its own force. When the promoters began to note the power and extent of the market, they realized that this was not just a little, quibbling business plan they had conceived, but one that required many, many thousands of dollars, co-operation of the large record manufacturers, and that would possibly run into millions of records when in complete action. The wild statements this caused them to make drove many interested advertisers away, and created suspicion among the men in this industry.

For years one novelty manufacturer after another has been after the members of this industry to sell his products while they travel about their locations. Some operators have been successful with this plan.

One of the most ingenious and successful plans ever evolved was in the early days of neon signs. One such sign salesman arranged to give the signs away to storekeepers, financing them from his own capital, and obtain payment from the location's share of the collections from the coin machine in the place. This met with the instant and wholehearted approval of the storekeepers. Many hundreds of signs were sold on this basis by this man thru the fact that some operator had a machine in the location. The operator never shared in these profits. Almost every tavern in his territory bought neon signs from this salesman. He even went to the extent of placing machines in locations where he found none, first to just sell the sign, and then continued operating the machines after the sign was paid for.

This large and potential merchandising force contained within this industry makes possible a better understanding and contact between the manufacturer of some consumer item and the public generally. By using the operator as his medium, the manufacturer of some general item can rapidly gain national acceptance for his product. Surely the phonograph record manufacturers will agree to this for their industry was taken out of the dump of despair and placed into a most enviable leading position by the members of this trade.

The operator, tho, must be able to practically give that product away, or to consign it. At the same time the operator can collect for an item that brings profit to the location from the income of the equipment on the location. This means that he becomes more closely cemented to the location, for as long as that product remains his equipment must remain, too. At the same time he is bringing extra profits and probably more and better business to the location owner. This surely helps foster a better business relationship between himself and the location owner, and also brings about a generally finer mutual understanding of each other's importance as merchandisers.

Someone, somewhere in the nation will one day come along with the product which will meet with the approval of practically everyone of the locations now controlled by the members of this industry. Whoever he is, it will certainly mean vast riches for him. It will mean more income for all engaged in this industry. It will then be truly merchandising the operating of this business. It will more closely cement this industry to its locations. It will assure members of this trade that regardless of what may happen in their territory they will still have income and still maintain their locations. All this will be in addition to income from the machines operating they are doing.

This vast, untapped, gigantic merchandising force is bound to make someone extremely rich, overnight. It will also make a lot of other people rich. It will bring jobbers and distributors, and surely the manufacturers, a new business potential. It will first be most important to the operator for he is the basic force of this entire movement. It is his control of the locations in his territory, the friendship he has built with these locations, the years of constant contact he has made with them, that makes possible this great merchandising factor for this industry.

In the post-war era, a great many new items will come forth which will require speedier merchandising and distribution, as well as better contact. Manufacturers will seek for new means and new methods to arrange for such merchandising. Here is an industry which holds forth a great merchandising medium to such manufacturers. This industry offers the possibility of being able to overnight introducing a great merchandising force to American industry.

For years, this industry, because of its enthusiasm, ingenuity, ambition and youthfulness, has continued on ahead, daringly doing many things thought impossible, working hard on the fundamentals which have won much praise and comment for this trade, but in all that time building for this great day when it will be accepted for what it actually is—one of the greatest merchandising forces in the history of this nation.

This is the time to awaken this sleeping, giant force. This is the time for this industry to take complete advantage of all of its power, and use that power for its own future good, as well as for the future good and welfare of all American industry.

New fields will be needed when the war is won. New methods will have to be placed into effect. New means for merchandising. In fact, entire new industries to accommodate the millions in the armed forces who will return asking for the opportunity to win a place for themselves in this nation. These men and women of the armed services must be protected from the spectre of apple sellers on street corners and from the soup kitchen trucks that roamed the large cities after the last war.

Just by getting mad and gritting your teeth and saying, "It won't happen", won't stop it from happening. But, by thinking hard, by courage of conviction, by faith, by plunging in now, by using every working force within you, by taking advantage of the fact that this industry has within itself one of the greatest merchandising forces in the history of this nation, you can create a new, great merchandising industry.

By so doing you will open a new profit path to many of the millions of young men who will return from fighting this war. They will work hard for you and help you to build your industry to a point where it will obtain the prestige, respect and thanks of all American industry.

This is the job and the plan The Cash Box proposes for you for '45. This is what The Cash Box believes will help bring this industry to that point of success where it will definitely link itself with the leading industries of this country. This is what The Cash Box believes is part and parcel of the future of this coin operated machines industry. It means greater success for you, as well as for all in this nation. It is up to you to do this job—for yourself—and especially for your country.

"TALKING OUT LOUD"

INDUSTRY URGED TO GO ALL OUT

Back Up War Effort By Complete Concentration Of All Facilities And Manpower. Pool Mechanics. Cut Down Servicing To Conserve Gas And Tires. Stay Out Of Public's Eyes. "It's Now Or Never," Leaders Believe.

NEW YORK—Appeals from many leaders of the trade that this industry go all out were received this week. This is construed to be the result of the President's speech covering the state of the Union, and the grave all out war effort now facing this nation.

Many of these coinmen believe that this industry can conserve by concentrating its facilities and manpower. "Of what use is it at this time," one coinman writes, "for more than one service man to cover a location. We know that the cigarette and other vending machine people are now entering into the very same locations that we amusement machine men cover. Why can't we eliminate this wasted effort by getting only one or two service men to cover these spots for all of us at one time. We should get together among ourselves to conserve whatever we can at this time, and this is surely one way to do it."

Others have for long pooled mechanics in various areas where mechanical help is scarce. Once again this comes to the fore especially in view of the present national manpower situation. One noted leader writes, "About two years or more ago you wrote about pooling mechanics. Why not tell this to the trade once again? This is something that should most assuredly be done at this time when there is every possibility that manpower will be taken away from all entertainment industries to further help the war effort. The men should get together in every city, town and village and pool their mechanics so that they will not be caught short when this man-power situation strikes them."

Beyond these facts is that of cutting down even more on servicing than is being done at the present time. There is no doubt, one man writes, that by cutting to servicing only once every two weeks on the average location, that this will greatly conserve gas and tires. Tires are almost as scarce as hen's teeth, he writes, and with gas becoming more and ever more important for our boys on the fighting fronts, we should help by cutting our servicing and collecting to the absolute minimum.

Also suggested at this time is to keep out of the public's eye. Keep away from all flash. Stay away from anything that will be seen by the public regarding this industry. "This is the time", one coinman writes, "when we should adopt everything you wrote in your article 'Quiet' just a few issues ago. This is the time, like you stated, when we should make 'quiet the watchword' and stay away from anything which will get us too much publicity or even have the public's gaze swing our way in the very slightest degree. We've all seen what too much publicity did to horse racing."

TRADE WANTS NAT'L TAX COUNCIL

First Returns From Confidential Survey Show Overwhelming Demand. Many Also Want Public Relations Bureau. Greater War Effort Urged.

NEW YORK—First batch of returns from the "Confidential Survey" now being conducted by The Cash Box show an overwhelming demand for a National Tax Council and a Public Relations Bureau.

In conclusion can be taken the statement of the man who wrote to The Cash Box this week urging this all out aid to the war effort by everyone in this industry and which was, "It's now or never".

Many believe that unless this trade will go all out to help the war effort at this time that this business is liable to be seriously curtailed. This is not the time to let things ride. But to hurriedly complete programs so that when any investigations are made only compliments will be forthcoming for the help this industry is giving to win the war.

IDEAS WANTED

NEW YORK—In keeping with the spirit of many noted trade leaders who wrote The Cash Box regarding all out effort to help win the war, ideas are now called for from everyone in the industry.

If you believe that you have an idea that would be useful to all the industry to help everyone engaged in this business to go all out to help win the war, rush that idea to us for publication under your name.

A great many have stated in this survey, "Unless we get a National Tax Council of some kind in operation as soon as possible this industry is going to be taxed out of business."

Almost every answer to this survey has something to say about the present unreasonable tax situation existent in a great many state counties and cities thruout the nation.

These men report that this has reached the point where they can foresee they will have to seriously curtail a great many operations during the post-war period when they expect a return to more normal expenditure, and when they also believe a great many of the present war industries will be cut back to former production.

The demand for a Public Relations Bureau is just as great as for a tax council. The men feel that these will work together and will need each other in all cases where taxes and adverse publicity will come up. They feel that noted figures should staff the Public Relations Bureau. Some stated that if such a bureau were now in existence that it would have gathered together a great deal of good material which would be of tremendous help in the months to come.

DALLAS REP. ASKS PHONO TAX HIKE

DALLAS, TEX. — Rep. Dallas A. Blankenship of this city is reported to be drafting a bill to introduce to the coming state legislature session asking that the annual license fee on phonos be increased from $2.50 to $50.00.

Rep. Blankenship estimates that this increase would help bring the state about a $2,000,000.00 yearly revenue which, he reported, could be applied to raising the salaries of public school teachers in Texas.

This report now brings truth to the prediction of many Texas coinmen who wrote The Cash Box some months ago that they feared license fee increases. This unusually large increase is reported to have already gathered together many of the music men in the state for an all out fight.

As one Texas music man writes, "There is no doubt any more that we are going to take a really deep bite from the tax bug."

Almost thruout everyone of the survey sheets runs the theme that some strong, noted, outstanding national figure is needed to head the industry. These men feel that like the late Judge Landis and the present Will Hays dominate two great divisions of the entertainment industry, that this business, too, with the help of such noted, national figures, would rise rapidly to the top and win good comment and great respect of the nation.

As yet The Cash Box hasn't had the opportunity to check each individual survey sheet. This report only based on a rapid, general coverage of the statements which have been enclosed with each sheet returned. But these surely have a very outstanding note in the National Tax Council and Public Relations Bureau demand which The Cash Box has urged for a great many months for this industry.

As the "Confidential Survey" sheets are more carefully checked complete report to the trade will be made. There is no doubt that some extremely interesting facts are bound to come to light in this survey. There is also no doubt that a great many new ideas will be brought forth. These are expected to help the trade plan its course during the months to come.

THE CONFIDENTIAL PRICE LISTS

AN EXCLUSIVE MERCHANDISING SERVICE FOR THE COIN MACHINES INDUSTRY ISSUED EVERY WEEK BY: THE CASH BOX, 381 FOURTH AVENUE, NEW YORK 16, N. Y.

FOREWORD

Many times, wide differences appear in the high and low prices of certain equipment. Like any true reporter The Confidential Price Lists can only feature the market prices as they are quoted. The Confidential Price Lists act exactly the same as the market quotation board at the Stock Exchange—posting the prices exactly as they are quoted for the past week, regardless of how much they may seem to be out of line. Some machine prices do not change for months. The Confidential Price Lists, rather than show no price, retain the last known quotations for such equipment so that the subscriber at least has the last known quoted prices as a basis to work with. Prices continue to be very widely divergent these days. Someone on the West Coast may feel a certain machine worth $150.00 whereas someone on the East Coast may think it worth but $75.00. Of course, condition, serial, appearance, demand, territory, quantity, etc., must all be taken into consideration. The Confidential Price Lists report each quotation exactly as it is made and depend on the subscriber to make average price adjustment to fit the peculiarities of his own territory.

METHOD

The Confidential Price Lists are to be read as follows: First price listed is lowest price for the week; Second price listed is highest price for the past week. Where only one price appears this should be considered lowest price.

CODE

CHECK THIS CODE CAREFULLY. BECOME ACQUAINTED WITH EACH ONE OF THE CODE NUMBERS AND WHAT THEY SIGNIFY. THESE CODE NUMBERS APPEAR IN FRONT OF THE NAME OF EACH MACHINE.

1. MEANS PRICE WENT UP.
2. MEANS PRICE WENT DOWN.
3. MEANS MACHINE JUST ADDED TO LIST.
4. MEANS PRICES WENT UP AND DOWN DURING THE PAST WEEK
5. MEANS PRICES REMAINED SAME AS IN LAST PRICE LISTS.
6. MEANS NO PRICES QUOTED FOR PAST TWO WEEKS
7. MEANS NO PRICES QUOTED FOR PAST THREE WEEKS
8. MEANS NO PRICES QUOTED FOR PAST FOUR WEEKS OR LONGER

IMPORTANT

Machines underlined mean these were most active in trading the past week.

NOTICE! March, 1942. Market Prices for Wholesalers as per GMPR of OPA appeared in September 7, 1943 issue. Reprints are available.

Progress . . . and Profits!

. . . In almost every instance those operators who are quickest to recognize progressive change, to accept it, and to adapt themselves to it are the operators who show the highest profits. Yesterday's methods are almost as obsolete as yesterday's military tactics.

. . . The methods employed by us to keep our customers informed of important, progressive changes, and help them to adapt themselves to these changes, make it possible for our customers to enjoy the highest profits.

It will pay you handsomely to become better acquainted with us . . . today!

Frank Engel

SHORTLY after Pearl Harbor we, at Automatic Equipment Company, pledged to keep our doors open for the duration, so that Seeburg operators in our territory would have, at all times, a source from which to obtain vital parts and service.

During 1944 our scorecard reads as follows:

Pick-up heads repaired	724
Amplifiers repaired	538
Wall-O-Matics reconditioned	665
Phonos reconditioned	569
Seeburg motors exchanged	136

This record attests to the maintenance of that pledge. And for 1945 we intend to do our level best, despite shortage of materials, to continue this activity.

WE look forward to 1945 for normalcy, the return to "business as usual", and all the things for which we have been praying so fervently during these trying times. We are making plans for V-Day in which you, as an operator, and you, as a manufacturer, play vital parts.

To you, Mr. Operator, we will continue giving 100% service as we have been doing, for the maintenance of your business; and, to you, Mr. Manufacturer, we will have to wait until Victory before demonstrating the value of our organization for the handling of the products you make.

IN our case, the General is never far behind the front lines. We're speaking, of course, of the General's many years of close contact with the base of operations . . . keeping in constant touch with the operators, studying their needs and furnishing the type of equipment and service that helps them do a successful job. Actual experience in every phase of this business has given us a deep understanding of what the operator expects from a distributor and we've directed all our efforts toward maintaining standards of quality that would win the operator's complete confidence.

Bally

THE GREATEST NAME IN GAMES and VENDERS

"Bally" engineers and workers are proving daily that their skill—developed in peace-time production of coin-operated games and venders—is a valuable asset to America in time of war. And "Bally's" performance in war production is a forecast of "Bally's" performance in the victorious future. Lion Manufacturing Corporation, Chicago, manufacturers of "Bally" games and venders.

New Bally Plant has 125,000 square feet of floor space. Although now entirely devoted to war production, the factory is designed to be one of the world's most modern coin-machine plants.
